Thermo Boot

package, providing grip like you have never experienced before!

The Thermo Boot is available in UK sizes starting from 6, all the way up to size 13.

ALL SEASON BOOT

Unlike the former, this particular boot is not intended to be thermally insulated or even a low temperature piece of footwear, but is instead an extensively updated garment following the success of the VASS Fleece Lined Boot. As the name suggests, this boot performs beautifully at all times of year, thanks to the fleece lining, yet is lightweight enough to be used for short and long sessions alike.

VASS has ensured that no metal components have been installed, therefore avoiding any rust and unwanted deterioration. The All Season Boot is also showerproof on the top half and waterproof on the bottom half. They are easy to slip on at a moment's notice and can be removed at the end of the session through the use of the large quick release Velcro strap and Easy Off Heel Kick.

One of the discerning features compared to its predecessor is the true sizing, as the previous release was undersized. This now means a size 12 is in fact a size 12, and boots are obtainable from UK size 6 and upwards.

Whether we like it or not, the colder months are drawing in and should you plan to continue fishing throughout the winter, you may want to start thinking about your footwear! We have all been there, with plans to execute a successful winter campaign, only to slog it out wearing less than suitable clothing. Leaving for home earlier than you should in desperate need of warmth and comfort will always leave you wondering what could have been. But this needn't be the case as VASS has armed its footwear range of late with high quality entrants such as the all-new Thermo and All Season Boots.

THERMO BOOT

This is one boot that will never find you wanting for more as the Thermo Boot is guaranteed to perform in temperatures all the way down to a Baltic minus 64°C! The thick insulated synthetic fur liner throughout the boot goes a long way to helping with the heat retention and generation. Liners are also removable for washing when required. Despite being exceptionally warm, the Thermo Boot is highly functional too, as VASS has used a blend of materials for its construction.

The upper half of the boot is shower resistant, with a tough textile Khaki Green upper, as well as a quick release opening flap for fast and efficient removal. The heel kicker also helps with this, located on the lower half, which is finished in a lightweight and flexible 100 per cent waterproof material. A hard wearing deep chunky tread completes the
